

Ready to Host the World in Style

Over the coming three to four years, India will need close to 150000 new hotel rooms across all categories which will need fresh investment of up to US$ 10 billion.

Booming growth in business and tourist traffic coupled with the open skies policy have led to a 20% year on year growth in the hospitality industry.

Indian hotel sand spas now rank among the best in the world and many have joined the ranks of the Leading Hotels of the World. Ananda in the Himalayas was voted Best Overseas Spa Retreat by Conde Nast readers in 2005.

To know more about India, log on to www.ibef.org